

CROSS WITNESS FOR HERLIHY.

Inspector Tells of Forty Special Men Suppressing Vice.

MET REV. MR. PADDOCK.

Was in Court When the Clergyman Helped Prosecute Disorderly Houses.

President York was the only Commissioner present at the continuation of the trial of Capt. Herlihy for failure to suppress immorality in the "Red Light" district.

Patrolman George Blinshaw, a "plain clothes man" under Herlihy, testified that he made 68 arrests in the district. Inspector Cross was called. The "Red Light" is in his territory and Cross was asked if he had ever given orders to Capt. Herlihy. The Inspector replied that he had.

"Forty unmarried policemen were called in from outlying districts," he said, "and assigned to special posts and kept there during the whole twenty-four hours. These forty remained a month, when forty more came."

Cross said he had met Rev. Mr. Paddock in court, where the clergyman had a witness to testify against one of the disorderly houses.

Inspector Cross continued, saying that on April 4 another forty men were taken from the outlying districts and these men remained until Capt. Herlihy was removed to the Steamboat Squad.

"Capt. Thus then came," he said, "and went through the entire district spreading terror and driving out the vice, as the 'to let' were on the many houses would indicate even up to the present day."

Dr. Joseph Adler, of 118 Columbia street, was called. He said he had a great many patients in the "Red Light" district and that when attending there he never saw or heard anything that was offensive to the public morals.

Cross-examined by Mr. Abbott, Dr. Adler said he wrote to Capt. Herlihy offering his services, never having heard the houses enumerated had had reputations.

Dr. Adler reviewed his own career and was asked: "Are not some of your patients women of questionable reputation?"

He refused to answer on the ground that it was an unbecoming question, revealing facts connected with his practice.

FALL RIVER SENDS COTTON.

Shipments to New York Brokers Short on January Contracts.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Jan. 27.—The cottoning in the New York cotton market was followed with the closest interest in this city to-day. Already heavy shipments have been made from the transatlantic to New York, the Atlantic City of Taunton, of the Fall River line, having made a special trip last night with 1500 bales.

The railroads have sent a considerable quantity, but the figures of the amount shipped are not given out. More cotton is scheduled to go.

FIRE IN GAS WORKS.

Explosion in a Storehouse Frightens the Workmen.

The workmen employed in the storehouse of the Consolidated Gas Works, at the foot of East Twenty-first street, were startled this afternoon by an explosion followed by a jet of flame coming from one of the inner rooms of the storehouse. Those employed in the building made a rush to get out, and one of them sent in an alarm.

When the fire engines arrived the fire was burning fiercely on the side of the building abutting on the yard. The firemen quickly put out the blaze. Chief Jones estimated the loss at $200.

The room in which the explosion occurred contained a large quantity of gas. These, the foreman declared, were empty.

AUSTRIAN ENVOY, HE SAYS.

Payla, with Three Comrades Arraigned in Court.

Albert Parent, Ladislav Payla, Zoltan Von Rojes and Paul Lipke, students from Buda Pesth, came to this city a month ago.

To-day they were arraigned in Part II, of General Sessions, charged with malicious mischief.

On the night of Dec. 25 the four got into a dispute with many slaves in the Cafe Manhattan, and during the melee a cigar-case was smashed.

"I am here," Payla told Judge Foster, "on behalf of the Austrian Government to make a report on the condition of the Austrians in this country. There was no intent to smash the case."

After warning them, Judge Foster discharged all four.

TWO NEW SMALL-POX CASES.

Babe Dies at North Brother Island of Infection.

There were two cases of small-pox and one death reported to the Board of Health to-day. The death was that of George Vogel, one year old, of 314 East forty-sixth street, who was transferred to North Brother Island three days ago.

The other cases reported were: Edward Kelly, ten years old, of 165 Third street, Long Island City, and Eleanor Smith, twenty-seven years old, of 725 East One Hundred and Fifty-sixth street, Manhattan.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Forecast for the thirty-six hours ending at 8 P. M. Tuesday for New York City and vicinity: Threatening weather, with snow during to-night, generally fair Tuesday, high to fair, southerly winds.

The Mad King of — is he? See page 367 World.

RECORD FOR TRAVEL HELD BY ILLINOIS GIRL.

Miss Celeste Miller Has Been in Nearly All Countries Alone.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Miss Celeste J. Miller, who was booked to sail from New York on the 26th for a cruise around the West Indies, thence to South America claims to hold the record for having travelled more miles than any other woman in America.

She has been a globe-trotter for three years. In that time she has spent 22 days at sea on forty-five different ships. She has been in every country in Europe, and has made a complete circle of the globe. She has visited Australia, New Zealand, Burma, and the South Sea Islands. When in China she went to the head of the Yang-tze-Kiang. When in Japan she dressed after the fashion of Japanese women, and the picture in this article is a copy from one made by a Japanese photographer.

She has recently returned from a trip through Morocco and Spain. She was born in Princeton, Ill., and is a graduate of Lombard and Vassar Colleges. Her love for travel was acquired through trips made with her father, and since his death she has travelled alone.

POPE LEO'S BEAUTIFUL "ODE" ON 20TH CENTURY.

Rendered Into English Verse by Andrew Lang, Great Britain's Leading Poet and Critic, and Cabled to The World.

(Copyright, 1901, by the Press Publishing Company, New York World.) (Special Cable Despatch to The World.)

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Andrew Lang, poet and critic, has made a translation of the Pope's "Ode to the Twentieth Century" especially for The World. It will also be the first metrical rendition of Leo XIII's superb effort to be published in the English language. Mr. Lang's vigorous verses convey with a master touch both the spirit and the rhythm of the Latin original.

SECULAR ODE.

(Translated for The World by Andrew Lang.)

Renowned in letters, famed in art,
The Age recedes; of many a thing
Won for man's good from Nature's heart
Who will may sing.

The glories of the faded years
I rather backward glancing mourn—
The deeds ill done, the tears
Of the Age outworn.

Red wars that reeked with blood of man
Wide-wandering license, sceptres rent,
Fierce guile that threatens the Vatican—
These I lament.

Where is thy glory, stainless, free,
City of Cities, queenly Rome?
Ages and Nations kneeled to Thee,
The Pontiff's home.

Woe for a time of Godless laws!
What Faith, what Loyalty abides?
Torn from the shrines the ancient cause
To ruin glides.

Listen, how Science wildly raves
Around the altars overthrown,
Brute Nature, with the World for slaves,
Is God alone!

Not made in God's own image now
Is Man—'tis thus the wise dispute—
But sprung from some remote cell, they vow,
Are Man and Brute.

O blinded Pride on chaos hurled!
O Night proclaimed where Light should be!
Obey thou Him who rules the World,
Man, and be free!

He only is the Truth, the Life;
He only points the Heavenward way;
He only frees the Soul from strife,
If men obey.

'Twas He who led the pious throng
But now to Peter's dust divine;
Of Faith, to live through ages long,
No empty sign!

Jesus, the Judge of years to be,
Direct the tides, the tempest still;
And make rebellious peoples free
To work Thy will.

Sow Thou the seeds of happy Peace,
All Evil drive from us afar;
And bid the rage and tumult cease
Of hateful War.

The minds of Kings and Peoples mould,
Thy word may all obey with awe;
Be there one Shepherd and one Fold,
One Faith, one Law.

My course is run, long ninety years
Thy gifts are mine; Thy grace retain;
Let not Thy servant's prayers and tears
Be poured-in vain.

MURRAY HALL NOT MURDERED.

Jury Finds She Died from Natural Causes.

HER DAUGHTER'S PROTEST.

Adopted Child Insisted Her Benefactor Was Killed by Beating.

There could be no inquest in this case, for the fact that a person long supposed to be a man eventually proved to be a woman.—Coroner Zucca to a jury.

The inquest into the death of Murray Hall, the woman who for years masqueraded as a man, conducting a series of saloons at 145 Sixth avenue, was begun this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Coroner Zucca called to the stand Anna Miller, the adopted daughter of the dead person.

He handed Miss Hall the letter Murray Hall, ex-Assistant District Attorney, had written to her death complaining of being beaten and sandbagged in a saloon.

Miss Hall identified the handwriting as that of Murray Hall.

Miss Hall said she believed the beating Murray Hall got led to the disease that resulted in her death.

Dr. William Gallagher, who attended Murray Hall in her last illness, was then sworn. Dr. Gallagher said the deceased died of cancer.

Asked if the beating Hall described as having received could have resulted in the disease which ended her life, Dr. Gallagher said he could not determine.

The jury found that Murray Hall died of natural causes, and that "the deceased was a woman."

Coroner Zucca explained that he wished a jury to pass upon the case, so that the records of the Surrogate's Court might be kept straight.

GEORGE J. KERR PLEADS GUILTY OF ASSAULT;

JENNIE BOSSCHIETER MURDER IS AVENGED.

(Continued from First Page.)

Dixon, asking for clemency for her brother.

John W. Harding, counsel for Kerr, went into an elaborate explanation of his client's attitude.

Harding said that his client could not be made amenable to the murder charge, as he was not present in Saal's saloon when the knockout drops were administered.

He denied that Kerr had taken part in the assault, but as he was present with the other he could not extricate himself from responsibility.

Not in the Saloon.

Harding reviewed Kerr's movements on the night of Jennie Bosschieter's death, saying that he had not been with the others when they met the girl in front of Kerr's drug store, nor was he cognizant of the fact that she was in Saal's saloon when he went there with a carriage to take Walter McAlister away with him to keep another engagement. He saw the girl for the first time when she was being lifted into the carriage as she reached the saloon.

Called Wise Move.

There were but few spectators in court when Kerr was arraigned, but the fact that he had been allowed to get off with a plea of guilty soon spread through the town and became a topic of general discussion.

It was received with surprise by many, but it was generally agreed that Kerr had pursued a wise course in not standing trial on the indictment in view of Judge Dixon's charge to the jury, which convicted McAlister, Campbell and Death, that all four were equally guilty, even if it was shown that only one of the prisoners assaulted the girl while all four were present.

The friends of McAlister, Campbell and Death could not be convinced that there was any legal or good reason why so much consideration should have been shown Kerr.

The latter is a brother of former City Judge Kerr, and is related by marriage to a prominent official of the city. Kerr is forty-one years of age, has been married twice and has a daughter eighteen years of age.

Ex-Judge Hugh Kerr, father of George J. Kerr, is dying of a broken heart. His end is only a question of a very short time.

Physicians are in attendance at his home, 28 Ward street, Paterson. Their efforts to restore him to health are unavailing. They can find little organic trouble, but the old man is slowly weakening, his vitality is ebbing and he is becoming a mere shadow of his former self.

The shattering of the old man's faith in his son is debared by marriage to be the cause of his sickness. He is simply grieving his heart out over the exposure of the younger man's misdeeds, and no medicine can avail him as it cannot restore the trust that for nearly two score years he had placed in his son.

Had Faith in Son.

The shock to the old man caused by his son's arrest was nothing, his friends aver, to the effect produced when he lost all faith, as the details of his son's misdeeds came out in the newspapers and in the courts. With his trust and his strength and health, and in a short time he was in the hands of the doctors.

"What did they arrest him for?" the old man asked the newspaperman, who carried him the news of his son's arrest. He was told.

Why, George could not have been mixed up in that affair," the ex-Judge said. "He was not that sort of a man."

He scouted the idea that his son would engage in such a ghastly affair, and ridiculed it as preposterous.

To Come the Grip in Two Days.

Lavative Bore-Outline, prevents the cause.

DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY MEDALS GIVEN TO VICTORS.

Evening World Presents Beautifully Unique Prizes in First Sporting Event of New Era.

Three fine young amateur runners were happy today when they received their awards of medals for their victories in the first sporting event of the twentieth century—the Evening World's Dawn-of-the-Century Race.

Isaac Gottlieb, of the Brevort A. C.; H. Thornton, of No. 37 West Thirty-seventh street, and H. O. Topplin, of No. 319 West Thirty-ninth street, are the modern Mercury, who, as the new century was being ushered in, outfitted their competitors in a flight from The World's Harlem office, on West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, to the Pulitzer Building.

The glory of winning such an event seemed to satisfy them, but the medals to commemorate their performance made them all the more happy.

There is a good excuse for seeming delay in the presentation of the symbols of victory. The medals were of special design and the work required on them by the modelers was the cause of the delay. On its surface is the reproduction of the two hemispheres. Behind them is the rising sun of the new century. In running attitude is the raised image of an athlete stretching from hemisphere to hemisphere. Surrounding this picture is a green gold wreath.

Connected by two gold link chains it hangs from a bar on which is inscribed:

FIRST SPORTING EVENT OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY. THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN OF THE CENTURY RACE.

12:00 P. M. JAN. 1, 1901.

The second prize is exactly similar, but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

The recipients of the prizes were highly pleased with them. Each asserted that he would guard and keep it forever.

THE AMATEURS' PRIZES IN THE EVENING WORLD'S DAWN-OF-THE-CENTURY RACE.

but on silver. The third prize is of bronze, and the fourth prize is of copper.

THROWN FROM MOVING 'L' TRAIN.

From One Peril to Another Went Michael Rothenberg.

PLUNGED TO THE STREET.

Fell in Front of Trolley Car, Which Was Stopped Just in Time.

Michael Rothenberg, a guard of the Brooklyn elevated road, was on his way home at 2:27 Atlantic avenue to-day when he attempted to board a train at Lorimer street, Williamsburg. He missed his footing but clung to the guard rail until the train had passed.

At any moment he was in danger of being mangled under the wheels. The car had passed he released his hold, evidently expecting to land on the footpath by the rail. He missed it and plunged thirty feet to the street.

He struck first in front of a Broadway trolley car, which was brought to a standstill just in the nick of time. Out of an uproar and Rothenberg would have been under the wheels.

He was unconscious when picked up and doctors of the Eastern District Hospital, where he was taken, found a skull was fractured and that he was suffering from internal injuries.

CONSUL CAPLES RESIGNS.

To Leave Chili with Minister Wilson, Who Comes on Vacation.

SANTIAGO DE CHILE, Jan. 28.—United States Consul at Valparaiso J. Caples has resigned. The United States Minister Henry L. Wilson, is going to the United States on leave of absence. Messrs. Caples and Wilson both sail the next steamer from Valparaiso.

OLEOMARGARINE FOR STUDENTS.

Bogus Butter Seized at the State School of Forestry.

ALBANY, Jan. 28.—The State authorities are indignant over the discovery that oleomargarine is being served to the students in the State School of Forestry in the Adirondacks, and a bill may be introduced to take the school out of the control of Cornell University.

The discovery was made by agents of the State Department of Agriculture. Four tubs of oleomargarine were seized. They were consigned to the State School of Forestry and were found at the upper lake where the school is located.

Commis-sioner of Agriculture Wetzel stated today that they had been ordered by State Comptroller, of the school, and the bills have been sent to the State Comptroller for audit.

The land forming the site of the school was purchased by the State and the school is maintained by public money expended under the direction of the Cornell University authorities. Senator Ambler today said:

"If the authorities of Cornell cannot offer some satisfactory explanation I will introduce a bill to take the State School of Forestry out of their hands and place it under the supervision of the State Department of Agriculture."

Jail-Breaking Attempt Fails.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Sheriff Underhill has frustrated another attempt at wholesale jail-breaking on the part of prisoners in the Broome County jail here. This is the second attempt made within a week, and each was discovered by accident.